DOING GOOD

Few medicines have met with more favor or accomplished more good than Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. John F. AMERICANISM OR PATERNALISM

In a recent great speech in New York state, Theodore Roosevelt struck some ringing blows for the principles of American democracy and initiative.

Regardless of political affiliations we cannot but admire Mr. Roosevelt as a fearless exponent of his convictions.

First, last and all the time he is in favor of national preparedness and pushing the war to a successful finish.

He took up another subject of vital importance to the American people. He is against "government ownership."

"Discreet" politicians would not have spoken thus at this moment when the government is assuming control of utility after utility and there is no end to what it is proposed to take possession of as a war measure.

But Colonel Roosevelt differentiates between what is a war necessity and the instinct of the nation in normal times. He is for any justifiable act that will win the war in the quickest possible time. But we are conducting a great war to save individualism and prevent the citizens from becoming a mere cog in the state wheel.

His economic presentation is not different from what it has been in the last decade. The war has not changed his individualism. He is for private ownership and governmental control; big business for the sake of economy and a firm centralized hand upon it from Washington.

Colonel Roosevelt struck the keynote in his speech as this issue must ultimately be decided on the clear

DO YOU REALIZE?

Do you as a citizen of the west realize there is a world shortage of sugar? Do you realize that the west could just as easily produce double the amount of sugar it does today? Do you realize that the government sets the price of sugar which virtually sets the price of beets? Do you realize that failure to raise sugar beets cuts off just so much cattle food? Do you realize that a campaign to cut down beet acreage such as was carried on last year, to force abnormal prices, is giving direct aid and comfort to the enemy?

If you don't realize this, wake up, and if you are situated to raise beets do your part next season to help relieve shortage.

After the grand march in which all took part the future was told by drawing from the kettle over the dying embers.
